Help your newly certified Soccer Referees start successful careers.

Many new Referees struggle with how to start their careers after completing the certification classes. New Referees are usually so focused on the information they need to know for the exam that they don't pay much attention to much else. That is why 23-year Soccer Referee veteran and retired USSF State Referee Instructor John Wargo created "What Now? The Essential Guide for New Soccer Referees."

"What Now?" entertainingly covers topics that can help make the difference between a frustrating, difficult first year of refereeing and a successful first year. It's no secret that new Soccer Referees who don't have good first year experiences aren't likely to continue their officiating careers.

"What Now?" picks up where the clinic leaves off. Topics included are:

- How to locate and join a local Referee Association
- How to purchase the right equipment
- How work with assignors
- How to practice and prepare for the first game
- How to prepare for the unexpected
- What to do game day (before, during and after the game)
- How to perform a self-assessment after the game
- And much more!

How can you include "What Now?" in your training efforts?

- Make "What Now?" part of your new Referee Clinics by distributing our flyer to students at your clinics.
- Purchase "What Now?" at wholesale prices to distribute at the completion of your clinics.
